BORN TO LOSE - A LIFE STRUGGLING TO WIN BY JIMMY FRANK PDF

This is a coming-of-age story of the first twenty years of a young boy's life from my first memories in a small town in north east Alabama until I was accepted into a four-year college in 1957. My family was very dysfunctional and I am an only child who didn't bond with my mother. My father was an alcoholic drug addict who rarely spoke to me after his mother passed and he got his first shot of morphine. My mother had a psychopathic personality that dictated everything and my father didn't argue with her. My father was a fine craftsman, a metal smith at repairing USN aircraft. I was small and not athletic but introverted. My maternal grandmother lived with us and explained to me how hard her life had been. I had bonded as a baby with our Italian neighbor and while my father had grown up in El Paso and knew enough Spanish to communicate with them, my parents were workaholics with very little social life and a narrow outlook on all foreigners. I failed at all social situations until all I wanted was to be independent. Trying to make friends, I was my own worst enemy. I made a lot of bad decisions trying to overcome my background, trying to stop feeling like a victim.
